

Science Symposia – 2017 to celebrate the National Science Day Feb. 28, 2017

The ICFAI University Jaipur organised “Science Symposia - 2017” to celebrate the National Science Day on February 28, 2017 in order to commemorate the invention of the Raman Effect by the Nobel Laureate Sir CV Raman. The event was comprised of inter-university paper presentation sessions and quiz competitions. Student participated from different universities and schools.

The Symposia started with inauguration in the presence of President Dr. P.B.L. Chaurasia, Registrar Dr. G.D. Rathod, Dr. S. S. Jain , Senior Advisor, IUJ, Prof. A.K. Saini , Associate Dean, ITS , Prof. M.A. Khan, HoD, ILS and all faculty and staff members of the university. A brief speech by President Dr. P.B.L. Chaurasia was given to enlighten about the importance of science and its application in various fields. Dr. S. S. Jain, Senior Advisor, IUJ, in his enthusiastic speech, appealed to the students to come forward and choose the career options in the sciences.

The students took part in the quiz and competitions in the symposia. The winners were given the cash prizes and awards. This event received wide attention in the media.

