Event – Deeksharambh 2025- Expert Guest Lecture on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

An enlightening session on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) was conducted by Dr. Tanmay Agarwal, Assistant Professor, The ICFAI Law School, the ICFAI University, Jaipur. The objective of the session was to create awareness among students about the importance, scope, and practical relevance of IPR in academics, research, and entrepreneurship.

Highlights of the session

Dr. Agarwal began the session by introducing the concept of Intellectual Property and its various forms such as patents, copyrights, trademarks, designs, and geographical indications. He emphasized how IPR plays a vital role in safeguarding innovative ideas, fostering creativity, and encouraging research and development. He also discussed the legal framework of IPR in India and abroad, highlighting the procedures for patent filing, copyright protection, and trademark registration. Through practical examples and case studies, Dr. Agarwal explained how innovations, if properly protected, can be commercially beneficial to individuals as well as organizations.

An interactive Q&A session followed, where students raised questions related to patentability of projects, plagiarism issues, and the challenges faced in protecting intellectual property. Dr. Agarwal addressed the queries with great clarity and motivated the students to be more mindful about originality and ownership in their academic and professional endeavours.

Key Objectives of the Session:

- To provide students with an understanding of different types of Intellectual Property.
- To explain the significance of IPR in innovation, research, and entrepreneurship.
- To familiarize students with the process of filing and protecting IPR.
- To encourage ethical practices and respect for originality in academic and professional work.

Outcomes:

- Students gained a clear understanding of the relevance of IPR in their respective fields.
- Participants became aware of the procedures involved in securing patents, copyrights, and trademarks.
- The session instilled a sense of responsibility among students to protect their innovations and respect intellectual contributions of others.

The session was highly informative and impactful, leaving the students inspired to explore their creative potential while safeguarding their intellectual property.

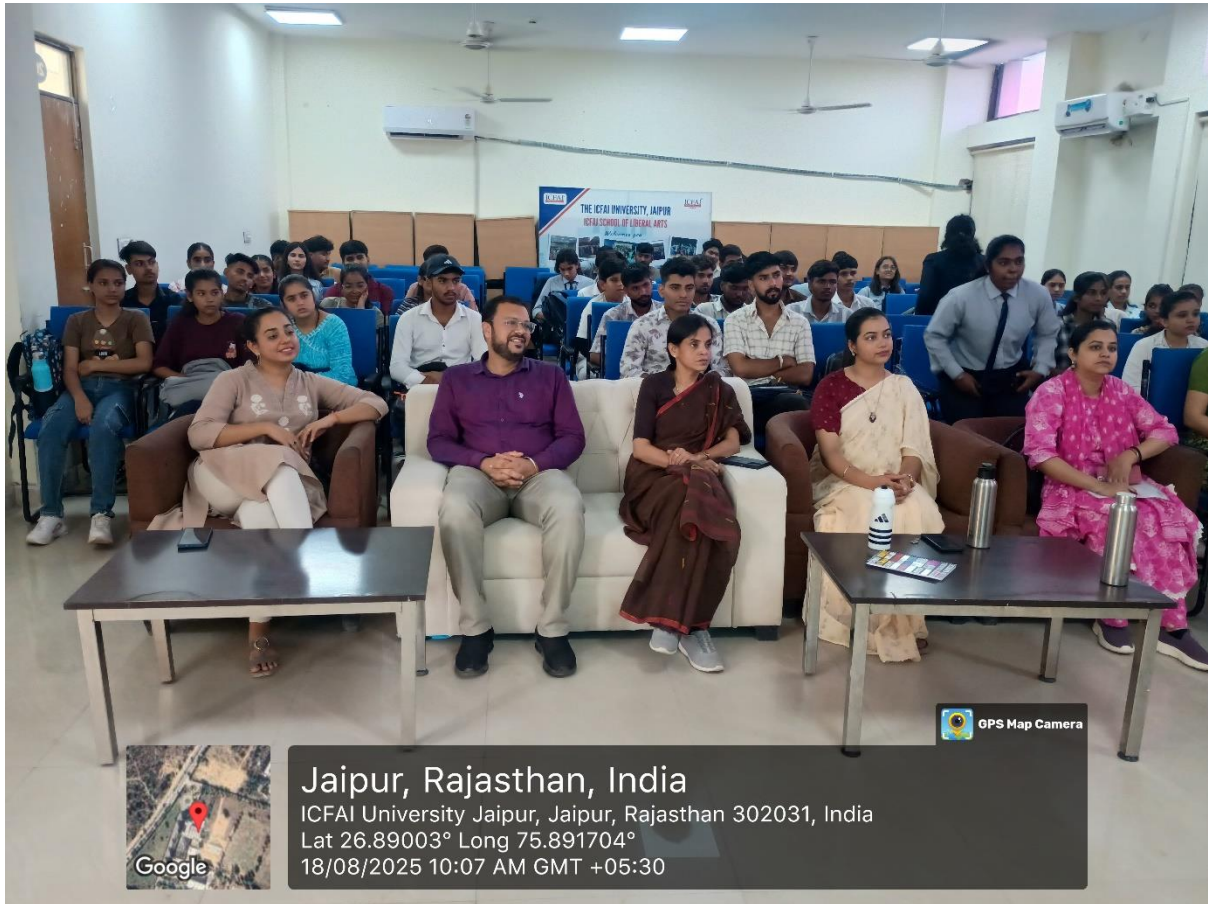

The faculty coordinator for the session was Ms. Chahana Chaturvedi.
